Seal explains

The Kilm-DeLisle Road

"We are here to get some answers"

By JERRY WHITTLE

When the smoke had settled, those in attendance may have wondered if they had just witnessed a replay of the shootout at the OK Corral instead of a meeting to inquire the status of the Kiln-DeLisle Road.

The meeting, prompted by a lack of action by the contracting firm, was attended by some 65-70 interested citizens and officials. At the close of the two hour meeting, residents of the area had received promises from a representative of Alabama Waterproofing Co., Inc., the firm which holds the contract to build the road, that immediate action would be taken on further construction of the road. Immediate was defined as the following morning, Wednesday.

The meeting was conducted Tuesday evening at Annunciation School and was moderated by Billy Sills. In addition to area residents, Hancock County Supervisors James Travirca, Sam Pernicaro and Oscar Peterson, State Representative J.P. Compreta, State Senator Martin Smith, Larry Seal and Don Murray of the County Engineer's Office and Tom Harden of Alabama Waterproofing, were present to discuss various difficulties in construction of the road.

Sills opened the meeting by stating, "We are here to get some answers. But it has gotten to the point that we don't know who to turn to." Following his brief comments, Sills opened the floor for questions from the residents and the flood waters of questions started to pour.

The main complaint expressed by a number of those in attendance was the lack of work which they (the residents) felt the crews could have conducted. Additionally, the people voiced strong complaints about destruction of their vehicles, due to the roughness of the road, materials washing on their property, washed out driveways, the extreme amount of dust and the health hazards involved.

The speed of the trucks hauling materials was also brought to the attention of Seal. One lady said she had to drive 70 miles an hour to keep from getting run over by one of the trucks. Seal said he had been told of the problem before, but had instructed those responsible to cut down on the speed of the trucks. He noted the truckers had been told not to exceed a 30 mile an hour speed. However, several people had a different point of view, saying the trucks were continuing to travel the road at a high rate of speed.

On a different subject, Travirca was questioned as to who was responsible for the road. He said the Supervisors could not take any action on the road until the 200 working days had passed, adding the construction was strictly in the hands of the contractor. He noted the number of working days was in the hands of Seal and he was the only person who could say what was a working day and what was not. If the road is not completed after the 200 working days, a $225 per day penalty can be charged against the contractor.

Travirca was asked if the contractor was not performing as expected could the Supervisors not put pressure on the bonding company to make the contractor put forth a better effort.

Travirca said the contractor would have to be allowed to work his 200 days and if the matter had to be taken to court, through the bonding company, it would be a lengthy process before any final action was given.

It was noted that AWC has undergone a recent change in management. At that point, Harden was questioned as to when the people could expect to see some action taken on final construction of the road. Harden said he would have equipment on the job the following morning and within three to four weeks they should have asphalt on the road.

One gentleman asked Harden who owned AWC, but Harden replied that he did not know who owned the company.

Over 60 percent of the money for the road has already been paid to AWC through the State of Mississippi's State Aid for Roads. The total project cost is $630,000 and over $360,000 has been made in payments. Seal was asked to

In spa case

Suit is filed by Attorney General

Attorney General A.F. Summer filed suit Wednesday against a Bay St. Louis health spa and asked the Court to cancel membership contracts of Gulf Coast area residents and order refunds to those consumers who have paid for their memberships.

In the suit brought by the Attorney's General's Office of Consumer Protection in the Chancery Court of Hancock County, the Aquarius Spa and Health Club, Inc. was charged with selling lifetime memberships to the spa and closing its operation in Bay St. Louis. The suit seeks to release all contractual obligations of members and also to give the members the alternative of transferring free of charge to the company's Slidell spa or to receive a pro rata refund of the paid membership fee, and to prohibit the spa or its owners from selling any further memberships or engaging in any future deceptive acts or practices.

The Attorney General also asks that the spa and its owner, Ms. Shirley Miller Tarzetti, be ordered to assume all payments of all promissory notes heretofore signed by the members and sold to several financial institutions in the area by the health spa.

The Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney general's Office had initiated the investigation of this matter based upon complaints filed in its office in Jackson by Gulf Coast residents.

Summer said, "I hope that the action by our Consumer Protection Office will be of assistance to the Citizens in providing a solution to the problem of health spas selling memberships and then closing."

Chancery Judge John Morris issued an order Wednesday setting the case for hearing on May 6, in Bay St. Louis.

It has been reported from Slidell that the spa equipment has been moved from the proposed location and the building will not be leased to the Aquarius Spa.

Deadline given for candidates

Suspects and reward offered in vandalism

By JAKE JACOB

A $25 reward offered by the Waveland Elementary School's Parent-Teacher Organization for information leading to the apprehension of vandals that seriously damaged the facility last weekend, drew instant response from the student body.

"Thirty minutes after we made the announcement over the school's public address system we had about 50 kids report to the office."

"These students provided us with about 400 names that indicated all the students of this school and about half of the enrollment of St. Clare's," McQueen reported in a jocular manner.

In a more serious vein, he said that two names kept coming up over and over again, names originally provided by school officials."

McQueen said he was really pleased over the attitude of his students who, he said, are indignant over the break-in.

"These students cannot believe that other kids would do that to their school buildings," McQueen said.

He said they had offered to patrol the school during off hours and weekends and were making every effort to help.

The two names have been turned over to police for follow-up, McQueen indicated.

The school was the victim of extensive vandalism last weekend when it sustained approximately $2500 worth of damage from two, small-footed intruders.

He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in economics, cum laude in 1973 and his Master of Arts degree in 1976.

The marriage will be celebrated May 28, 3 p.m. at Saint Peter's By-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Gulfport.

There were several comments made concerning Seal's work on the project and some of the residents said they felt if he couldn't do the job, he should be replaced.

He was questioned on a number of points, such as time spent checking on the working days,

the progress of the work,

communications with AWC

and several other matters.

A suggestion was made to "forget about what's happened in the past and look to the future." It was also suggested that the people wait a few weeks to see if any headway is made in fixing the road and if not to call another meeting.

said they help plan the project, but determine if there was anything they could do to assist.

Mrs. Dorothy Cuevas, one of the more outspoken residents, directed a great deal of questions to Engineer Seal.

One of her main comments was the lack of work by the contractor. Seal was questioned as to what was considered a "working day".

Since it had been stated, there had been 151 working days completed since the project was started in the latter part of 1975, some 16 months ago.

Seal said the "working day" was considered a day in which the contractor could work seven hours and it must be a day in which weather would permit hauling of materials.

Holidays, Saturdays and Sundays do not count as working days.

Seal noted his recommendation for the total number of working days had been overridden and set at 200, which he felt was too many.

Mrs. Cuevas said, "Mr. Seal is a month and 17 days left to finish the road and we're going to be sitting on your door step. And we're going to set on some other door steps also."

There were several comments made concerning Seal's work on the project and some of the residents said they felt if he couldn't do the job, he should be replaced.

Weidman said Williams had five directors in three years and as I have been in the service five years come July, Williams is not the first one I've worked under."

"At Buccaneer we are supposed to have had 12 people working in April and we had four.

"We have been the number one camping facility in the state park service since last October and had the number one retail outlet from July through September.

"We have simply, not had the manpower to operate."

Weidman said Williams had violated park policy by becoming involved in hiring people, a job - to maintain established chains of command, recognized as being the responsibility of the park ranger.

Initial reports received by county supervisors last December indicated Weidman was to be transferred to alternate park duty in Biloxi. They at that time passed a resolution seeking ways to have the superintendent retained. The reason given by the park's service for the transfer was that personnel are not permitted to serve in their own home town areas.

This action was later enjoined by the City of Waveland within whose boundaries the park lays.

Weidman has been at Buccaneer (located at Jackson Ridge) since its being nearly completed in 1976, through the dedication and official opening ceremonies, and was preparing for full-scale summer operations this year when his firing was announced.

The next held May 26 at the Gulf Nat Room.

serving all over Hancock County. This includes Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Kiln and Pearlington. The total number of hours served by RSVP volunteers in the last fiscal year which ended March 31st was 57,873. This is an average of 4,822 hours every month. They logged 9,000 miles on their station wagon driving volunteers to and from their stations.

American Red Cross: Mr. Wimbish is Disaster Chairman for Hancock County. He serves many hours attending meetings and preparing for hurricanes when one is eminent. Also, several volunteers arrange entertainment and refreshments for veterans once a month. They are brought here by bus. 878 hours were served at this station last year.

Blood Bank: Volunteers address cards to blood donors and several of our volunteers also help on the day of the blood drawing twice a year. 20 hours were served at this station.

Buccaneer Park: Last summer several of our volunteers acted as judges for the fishing contest held at Buccaneer Park. 15 hours were served at this station.

Civil Defense: When Mr. Boudin needs help in his office and also when a hurricane is eminent our volunteers help in any capacity they are needed. Only 5 hours were served at this station last year.

County Home: We take volunteers twice a week to visit patients. In addition to this, Brother Canisius and his teenagers entertain them on special occasions and by playing bingo and serving refreshments. 327 hours were served at this station.

Chamber of Commerce: Whenever Mr. Berns needs help in his office, he calls us and we can always supply the person to answer his phone. Volunteers served 90 hours at this station.

Headstart: Volunteers spend about 2 hours on each service day relieving the teachers by reading to the children and helping during their lunch hour. They served 57 hours at this station.

Humane Society: Volunteers help with their membership drive and also when they have rummage sales to raise funds. 49 hours were served at this station.

Information and Referral: There are many different ways our volunteers serve at this station. They work in the office, visit shut-ins in their homes and in the hospitals, drive senior citizens to doctors, shopping, etc. We even have some volunteers who cook and bring food to the sick. They clean house and do all kinds of humane acts to make the patients comfortable. Included in this station is telephone reassurance. A number of our volunteers are unable to serve outside of their homes. Telephone reassurance enables them to contribute 4,945 hours last year at this needed service. The number of hours for Information and Referral alone were 20,770 hours, for a grand total of 25,715 hours.

Nutrition: Volunteers help serve noon meals here at the center every working day. 1,757 hours were served at this station.

Public Library: Volunteers help in the library by returning books to the proper places on shelves, telephoning and any other way they are needed. 512 hours were served at this station.

children have learned to love them and they have learned to love them in return. 379 hours have been served at this station.

Good Will: When Good Will opened a store in Bay St. Louis, volunteers baked cakes for the opening and have helped every week since then. They have served 663 hours at this station.

Health Department: When the call went out for volunteers to help register people for the swine flu shots, our volunteers were right there. They served 111 hours at this station.

Project Do: Brother Canisius has a group of students from St. Stanislaus and Our Lady's Academy who do so many things I don't think I can name them all, but I will try. They visit the nursing home and county home and play bingo with the patients, furnishing the prizes themselves. They plan activities for the Day Care for the Elderly once a month. They give parties for the children of Silver Creek School as well as helping the physical therapist all year round and especially in the summer when they take them swimming. They also invite Vietnamese children to come to the Coast for a day.

Waveland Hospitality Center: This is one of our more popular stations. Four volunteers serve at the Hospitality Booth on Hwy. 90 every day; 2 in the morning, 2 in the afternoon. They give information to tourists, 4,406 hours were served at this station.

United Way: Volunteers help with fund raising by addressing and tuffing envelopes. Our volunteer is in charge of the emergency relief fund and devotes many hours to this. At Christmas time, volunteers wrapped all the gifts for the Fireman's Toy Fund which was distributed to needy families. 450 hours were served at this station.

Welfare: Volunteers drive welfare patients to the doctor, shopping, bringing them medicine and visit them in nursing homes. Some of our volunteers go into homes of the needy and cook for them; they even clean their houses. As Christmas time, volunteers wrapped cookies and candy and brought them to the patients in the Nursing Home. 9,475 hours were served at this station.

Waveland Civic Center: The senior citizens have formed a club in Waveland. They have bingo games to try to raise funds. They hold meetings once a month. 3,148 hours were served at this station.

Silver Creek School: Volunteers help the children do crafts once a week. This is very rewarding to those volunteers, because the

Conditioning important in PHR competition

Pitching, hitting and running are the three competitions in Major League baseball's official youth program, Pitch, Hit & Run, but overall conditioning is a major benefit for youngsters who enter the competition.

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports has developed a series of Conditioning Tips and Warm-up Exercises which are featured in the Tips Book available to boys and girls between the ages of 9-12. These books can be obtained free at Jermes in the Bay. No purchase is necessary to enter Pitch, Hit & Run.

Thom McAn is sponsoring Pitch, Hit & Run, in association with the National Recreation and Park Association and the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. An official entry blank is in the Tips Book, which also features tips on pitching, hitting and running from Major League stars - Jim Palmer, Rod Carew and Joe Morgan.

C. Carson Conrad, Executive Director of The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, states that "a significant aspect of this program is the physical fitness component which is designed to develop strength and stamina. We believe the youth of America must be 'fit to play' in order to enjoy themselves and reach their fullest potential."

The conditioning tips are aimed at improving heart and lung endurance and muscle strength and endurance. The conditioning tips and warmup exercises are geared to properly prepare the youngster for PH&R competition.

Registration for Pitch, Hit & Run continues through May 22 at all Thom McAn stores and participating dealers.

Tigers win

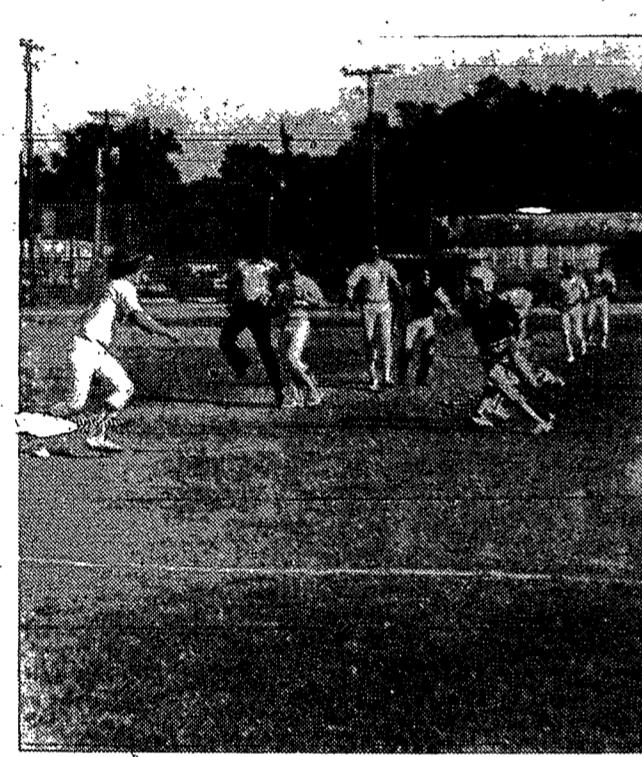

Coach Claude Yarbrough's Tigers have seemed to found themselves the last two weeks as they chalked up another victory Thursday afternoon at Tiger Stadium over Vancleave by a score of 6-5.

Frank Henry was the winning pitcher as he went the full seven innings for the Tigers. Louis Dunklin, Frank Henry, and Bill Ginn paced the Tigers with two hits apiece.

The Tigers did all their scoring in the second and third innings as they ran six runs across the plate.

The Tigers will play host to the Stone High Tomcats on Monday at 4 p.m.

Pass action

Pass eliminated

The Pass Christian Pirates lost two in a row in a best of three series and were knocked out of the District 8 Class A high school baseball playoffs by Oak Grove on Thursday afternoon.

Jack Ulrich the Pirates star pitcher all year long was the losing pitcher for the Pirates, as Oak Grove shut out the Pass by a score of 3-0.

In the two games they were shut out by a total of 8-0.

Pass who now has a record of 16-3 for the year will entertain St. John winners over St. Stanislaus on Monday at 3:30 p.m. at Pass High's field.

FEDERAL CLERKS

Two Ole Miss law students and two recent graduates have been awarded federal clerkships by judges of U.S. District courts in Mississippi and by judges of the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. They are Bill Reed and Betty Morgan, both of Jackson; Franklin Myers of Petal; and Dan Webb of Saltillo.

Rocks lose final game

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw's played their last game of the season Friday afternoon and came out on the short end of the bat by a score of 7-4.

Coach Fred Weems Rocks played host to St. John before a nice crowd and played their hearts out to win but came up short.

Kerry Geroux, started for the Rocks and lasted two thirds an inning and was tagged with the loss. Kerry Corr then came in to pitch one-third of an inning, and his brother Donald pitched one inning. Freshman Scott Cox pitched the last five innings. St. John pounded out 15 hits while the Rocks had 10 hits. Six of those hits came from three batters, Todd Edwards, Mark McCarthy, and Donald Corr who all had two hits apiece.

The Rocks ended their season with an overall record of 11-13 and 4-2 in conference play.
